JE SUIS PRET.

THE FARNHAM FAMILY CREST.

This crest represents a griffin's* head protruding from a ducal crown, bearing in its beak a crossed crosslet sharpened, ready to be set up.

Motto, "Je suis pret," I am ready.

* A griffin is a fabled animal half lion and half eagle. It is represented with wings, a beak, and four legs; the upper part resembling an eagle and the lower part a lion. The figure of the griffin is seen on ancient medals and is still borne in coat armor.

INTRODUCTION.

It is more than a quarter of a century since I began to collect the material for this volume. As will be supposed, sometimes, many years have passed without adding a single item.

I have brought together from town-records, histories, parish-records, genealogies and grave-stones, such statements as contained the name. As I anticipated, many of these isolated facts have worked into the genealogical table, filling a gap or furnishing a connecting link.

In 1859, just before leaving the United States for China, I visited the patriarch, and revolutionary soldier, Ralph Farnham of Acton, Maine. He was then 103 years old and his son John, more than eighty. He gave me considerable information which I had not been able to obtain before.

When visiting the United States in 1883-4, Gorham N. Weymouth, Esq. of Hollis, Maine, whose mother was a Farnham, gave me extracts which he had made from the manuscript History of the Town of York by N. G. Marshall. I had always understood my ancestors went from Andover, Massachusetts, to Maine, but had never been able to trace the line. However the information I got from Mr. Weymouth corroborated that given me by the patriarch Ralph and helped to establish beyond a doubt the long desired connection.

I have published many historial statements where the name occurs, hoping I may render some one else similar service to that which Mr. Weymouth has rendered me.

The genealogical tables contain but a small fraction of all the families, that should be given; and I believe with a little effort might be made out.

I had supposed that Ralph who came over in the brig "James," in 1635 was the progenitor of all the Farnhams, Farnams, Varnums etc. in the United States; or at any rate of all the early generations. But from the statement made in the Rev. S. Danforth's Records of Dorchester it seems there was a certain Henry Farnham living there as early as 1658.

The Record is;— "1658 Dec. 11. At midnight yr happened a great burning, the fire began in ye outside of Henry Farnham's workshop."

Savage says he was a member of the Artillery Company in 1644, a freeman in 1645 and thinks he went to Long Island and thence to Connecticut, and was certainly a deacon living in Killingsworth in 1666. He died Jan. 13, 1700 leaving an only son Peter.

It would seem from the above, that this Henry Farnham who was old enough to be a member of the Artillery Company in 1644, could not have belonged to the family of Ralph who landed in Boston in 1635, though he may have been a cousin or brother.

As mentioned elsewhere, I have found the name spelled in a variety of ways;— Farnham (from the Old English fern hame, fern home—) Farnam, Farnum, Ffarnum: Varnham, Varnam and Varnum. Once I found it spelled Farman and persons of that name, as well as the Varnums may be a branch of our family. I wish that persons bearing these names would look into the matter and compare their genealogical tables with those given in this volume; and if there is any evidence that we are of the same lineage, send the information to be incorporated in the next edition. I trust that all who bear the name, in any of its many forms of spelling, will send me all the information within their reach, and if no more, their family record, that the next edition may contain every name down to the last-born child. Please give as far as possible dates and names of places.

I feel that if I would do anything, to rescue these memories from utter oblivion, it must be done quickly; therefore I hope all interested will forward at once whatever will help to complete the history of our widely extended family.

It is possible that some will make contributions to help place the genealogy of the family in Public Libraries. Money for this purpose may be sent to Rev. Luther Farnham, Librarian of the Minister's Library Boston, Mass. and copies will be placed gratis in the Public Libraries of all our large cities, as far as the means is provided. I am sure there are many who bear the name quite able and I believe possessing public spirit enough, to devote fifty or even one hundred dollars to such a purpose.

I have some memoirs and shall be glad of others together with incidents and anecdotes.

J. M. W. Farnham

Shanghai, China, January 1886.

I have thus far traced the genealogy of my own branch of the family from Ralph, 1—1, to the youngest child, of my youngest brother, Frank, 137—4, of the ninth generation.

I have also given in their order, all I could learn of other branches of the family tree, having their origin nearer the root than the one from which my father sprung.

I now take up several lines which have sprung from branches still higher on the family tree.

They will be placed under distinct and separate heads, the numbers of the head of the family, referring to the preceding, showing to what part of the “tree” each branch belongs.

It is but fair to say that these various branches have had their own way of spelling the name, as Farnham, Farnam, Farnum and Varnum. Nor is it altogether strange, for though I have always spelled my name Farnham yet I have frequently been called Varnum, even by friends and schoolmates of my father, who must have known very well, how we spelled and pronounced our name.

The above was drawn from a family "tree" furnished by G. M. Farnham Esq. (21—1) of Chicago. He says his grandfather (Josiah 5—4) lived in Vermont, and alludes to a partial list of the Farnham family published by a lady in Vermont. I have seen nothing of the kind but should be glad, of even the loan, of a copy of that work.

IV CHARLES W., 31—4,

Married Renette Wilcox, Apr. 10. 1843. Children;—

34—1 V Charles William b. June 9. 1845.

For his second wife he married Sept. 15. 1863. Susan Merrill daughter of Daniel and Lydia Merrill of Canton Centre, Ct. She has taken interest enough in the family to write out and send me the material from which I have drawn the above genealogy, together with much historical information concerning the Springfield branch of the family. She says;—"In all cases the name was spelled alike, Farnam, but my father-in-law once told me that the original way of spelling it was Farnham, and I often have my name written that way by my friends". She adds that she has reason to believe that several young men of the name moved into Springfield about the year 1750, but from whence she cannot tell. Probably from Connecticut, and descendants of Peter, before alluded to. Mrs. Susan Merrill Farnam's address is care of C. W. Farnam, Esq. 111 Market, St. San Francisco, Cal. It is a pity there are not many others willing to make a similar effort to save the records of the family name.

Mass. Abbey m. E. Hobbs of Providence, R. I. Her brother James lives at Bryant's Pond.

The following is from The Genealogical Dictionary, under the heading:—

FARNHAM, FARNAM, FARNUM.

“HENRY, Roxbury, joiner, artillery company 1644, freeman 1645. The name in the church record being Farnham but in colony record Firman. He was not long at Roxbury. Perhaps went to Long Island and thence to Connecticut, certainly was of Killingworth 1666 a deacon. Died Jan 13. 1700 left only son Peter.

JOHN, Dorchester, freeman May 13. 1640, probably one of the founders of the second church Boston June 1650 and in 1666 was imprisoned for heresy, and turned into a Baptist by his wife Elizabeth. His dang. Elizabeth m. Aug. 6. 1657, Joshua Carwithee; Jonathan born at Dorchester Jan. 16. 1639.

HANNAH born Nov. 9. 1642: Joanna born Mar. 3. 1645; John who died Aug. 26. 1652; and Rachel who m. Thomas Martyn.

JOHN, Andover, married Nov. 12. 1667 to Rebecca Kent daughter of Stephen Kent of Newbury, had John born 1670 died next year; and David died Nov. 30. 1687. Perhaps he had second wife Mary Tyler and by her Ann who died Apr. 20. 1696.

JOHN, of Boston, married Apr. 7. 1664, probaby as second wife Susan, daughter of Thomas Arnold of Watertown, had John born May 20. 1655; freeman 1671, then of first church. His daughter Joanna married Jan. 7. 1658 to James English.

JOHN, of Andover son of Ralph, perhaps is he who married June 30. 1693 Mary Tyler.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

JONATHAN, of Boston son of first John, was a captain.

JOSEPH, of Boston freeman 1674.

PETER, of Killingworth married Hannah Wilcoxson had seven children, died Feb. 14. 1704 and his widow married Nathaniel Royee of Wallingford.

RALPH of Andover, married Oct. 26. 1658 Elizabeth daughter of Nicholas Holt. Tradition makes come from Wales but it is hardly to be believed. Who was his father is not certain probably Ralph who was father of Mary who married at Andover Oct. 20. 1650 Daniel Poor and of Sarah who married Apr. 26. 1658, George Abbot (See Farman.)

SAMUEL, Andover, perhaps brother of Ephraim and son of Thomas the first, married Jan. 4. 1698, Hannah Holt.

THOMAS, Andover, probably a brother of Ralph and brought with him in childhood by their father from England married July 8. 1660 Elizabeth Sibborts who died Jan. 11. 1686 aged 53. Thomas their son died Oct. 6. 1672.

THOMAS, Andover, son of Ralph, married May 14. 1693 Hannah Hutchinson. The descendants of these Andover stock are many, usually writing the name as did also John of Dorchester, Farnham. But at the various New England colonies it is not easy to adjust them."

Savage's Genl. Dicty. has the following:—

"FIRMAN, Ralph came from London, a barber-surgeon 1635 aged 32 in the "James" with his wife Alice aged 28: Children Mary, 7: Thomas, 4: and Ralph, 2. His residence under this style of spelling the name cannot be traced. Probably one of the first settlers of Andover, spelling his name Farnum or Farnham.

THOMAS, Farman was of Milford 1658 and may not have been son of the preceding.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

VARNUM, George, Ipswich died 1649, mentions his wife in his will of Apr. 21. names only children Samuel and Hannah.

SAMUEL, Ipswich 1648 son of George by wife Hannah had Abraham born Oct. 23. 1659 died at 5 months; Hannah May 22. 1661. Thomas Nov. 19. 1662. In 1683 he was 64 years old."

Eaton's Hist. of Thomaston and Rockland Maine gives the following;—

"FARNHAM, David, b. May 16. 1804, from Lincolnville, married Mary Richards; resides Rockland, and died Jan. 3 1862. Their children;— 1. Jeremiah W. b. about 1830, resides in Rockland, a mariner. 2. Anslem D. b. about 1832: married Sarah M. Moore, 1854 resided in Rockland, a mariner. 3. Joseph M. b. about 1836 resides in Rockland a mariner. 4. James G. b. June 1839. 5. Georgianna b. about 1846.

Auslem D. children:— 1. Sarah A. b. about 1846. 2. Lucy Ardell b. Dec. 1858 died Oct. 18. 1860.

FARNHAM, Captain, Andover Mass married Ann M. Ackley Nov. 15. 1861 resides in Rockland a master mariner."

I have taken the following from the Genealogical Hist. of the Redfield Family.

"FARNHAM, Abner of Clinton, Ct. son of Abner and Elizabeth (Wilcox) Farnham married Oct. 7. 1801 to Rebecca Redfield Mar. 10. 1844. (widow alive 1860 aged 86 years.) Children;—

Henry Alexander b. Nov. 16. 1824.

Abbot's Hist. of Andover, page 34, has the following:—

JOHN FARNHAM and Rebecca Kent, m. 1667; children, 2 John, Stephen, Jonathan, Thomas, David 2 John 3 John— 2 Jonathan 3 Jonathan— 2 David 3 Peter.

The following is extracted from The Farmer's Register. John of Dorchester admitted freeman 1640 and probably one of founders of the First Baptist Church in Boston, 1650. His son Jonathan was born 1638. John and Thomas were inhabitants of Andover in 1660, and their descendants are numerous, some of whom write the name Farnham. Thres had graduated at Harvard and Brown in 1828 besides several whose name are spelled Farnam.

John possibly preceding or a son was an early member of the First Baptist church in Boston.

William Varnum was born in Peacham, Vt. Jan. 26. 1793. He was son of Abraham and Dolly Varnum of Dracut (who were cousins.) He died in Lake Mills, Wisconsin Jan. 2. 1841 aged 52 years.

Mrs. Susan Merrill Farnam wife of C. W. Farnam, Esq. of 111 Market, St. San Francisco, Cal. furnishes the following which she "gleaned from the Springfield, Massachusetts records." She adds, "All I know of them is here recorded."

"Reuben Farnam and Kesia Wait were married Nov. 28. 1778. Noah son of Reuben and Kesia Farnam b. Jan. 13. 1780.

Benoni Farnam and Sabra born Dec. 25. 1761." As this is all the record I find of these two families I conclude they must have moved away.

"Josiah Farnam and Eleanor Carew m. Apr. 1. 1753. Children:— Josiah b. Mar. 25. 1754. Eleanor b. Sept. 29. 1756. Hannah b. Apr. 16. 1758. Jared b. Mar. 13. 1760.

Josiah, jr. m. Prudence—. Children; Samuel b. Aug. 25. 1775. Douglas, b. Nov. 29. 1779. Charley b. Sept. 7. 1782." I find a record of a "Ruth Farnam b. Jan. 24. 1757. Also Elisha Farnam and Thankfull Day m. June 12. 1783. Mary Farnam d. May 21. 1833 aged 67 years. Clement Farnam was drowned near the bridge Mar. 30. 1827 aged 62 years."

She says of the Springfield records;— "I found the first records to be of marriages within the period of a few years, hence, I concluded that a number of young men must have settled in Springfield, Mass. about the year 1750. The Farnams were not among the first settlers of Springfield, as no name appears prior to 1750."

I have taken the following from The New England Historical and Genealogical Registry.

"Queen Elizabeth let the manor of Farnham in 1577 to Edward Elliot.

Major General Joseph Bradley Farnham was in Congress four years and Speaker of the House two years. He was a Senator six years.

He came home sick and sent his son to Washington to settle his affairs. He and his son died both on the same day. He had the reputation of being a good man.

Ralph, page 5. (18—3,) came from Andover. He was sent to York, Maine, in the Indian war, previous to the Revolution, and liking the country settled and died there. His brother, Daniel, came with him but afterwards moved to Castle Bay, near Portland. His son Daniel, page 19, (20—1,) graduated at college, probably Harvard, and studied law and settled in Newburyport. His sister Olive, page 9, (22—3,) married Col. Grove, (Grow.)

The above was told me in 1859 by Ralph, page 22, (35—1,) when he was more than 100 years old.

CORRESPONDENCE.

I insert the following letter from S. W. Jones, Esq., though mainly only of local interest, to preserve on record some old landmarks in my native town.

W. LEBANON, ME. January 10th 1873.

DEAR SIR,

“Yours of the 6th instant, is received, and I hasten to reply, so far, as my information extends.

Your Grandfather, David Farnham, came to this town from York where his ancestors resided, and from whence, I think, all of the name who ever lived in Lebanon came.

His father's name was Matthew. He was never a resident of this town. So far as I can learn, he died in York. He had a brother, whose name was Joseph, who was one of the first settlers of this town. The lot upon which he settled is the same where Seth Wentworth resided when you lived here. As you will recollect, it was upon the “old road” so-called, on the westerly side of the road, nearly opposite the house of Deacon Nathaniel Chamberlain; where the remains of his old cellar is now to be seen. He had a son, also named Joseph, who lived for a time near his father, on the same side of the road, perhaps a hundred rods Northwesterly from his fathers residence. This son Joseph Farnham Jnr. was grown to manhood at the time the town was incorporated in 1767. He was the second Town Clerk and was elected in 1765 and held the office for nineteen years in succession. He and his father were both among the most prominent men of the town, both often holding town offices at the same time. This Joseph Farnham Jun. did not reside long where he first settled, but purchased the lot in our old neighborhood where Mrs. Remick lived and died, and where Mr. Hayes now lives. It was he who gave the land for the Burying Ground, where my, and your ancestors are now sleeping the long sleep of death. One of his children, a daughter, was the first person ever buried in that yard. He sold the place sometime about 1790 and moved to Lancaster, N.H. His father so far as I can learn, died in this town on the place where he first settled, and was burried in the old Burying Ground, at the old Meeting House, so called, a short distance southerly from where he lived. Your Grandfather, David Farnham, first settled on the place where your father lived and died. Undoubtedly you have often seen the remains of the old cellar where he first built, on the hill southerly from the house where George now lives. Your Grandfather had a brother by the name of Benjamin, who was one of the first settlers of Lebanon, and lived near deacon John Moody, on the same place where Ephraim Jones lived and died. There was a Farnham by the name of Ralph who was one of the original proprietors of this town; He lived here only a short time, sold his land and moved to Shapleigh, now Acton. While living here he had a son born, whose name, I think, was also Ralph, who was a soldier in the Revolutionary army, and who died in Acton a few years ago, aged about 102 years.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

What relation these two last named Farnhams were to your family, I am unable to tell. There was also a Paul Farnham among the first settlers of this town. He lived on the old road on the west side, a little below the place where James B. Chamberlain now lives. He lived here only for a short time, but where he went I am unable to learn. He was the father of that Benjamin Farnham who was the husband of Doreas Farnham whose funeral you attended last summer at Joseph Furnald's; whether any connexion of your family or not I cannot tell; it is, however my opinion, that all of the name who were ever in this town were distantly related, and sprang from the old stock at York. I think it not at all improbable, that you might, by searching the Town and Parish records of York, ascertain many more facts in relation to your ancestors.....

Yours truly,

SAMUEL W. JONES."

The Rev. P. P. Farnham writing from St Louis says:—

I believe this is the first time I ever received a communication from one of my own name out side of my own father's family. I have a friend in Owasso in this State who spells his name Farnum. He is Rev. W. L. Farnum, Pastor Bap. Church in Owasso. I hope your forth-coming history will show him to be of the same family with us and it would be interesting to know just when and how Farnham came to be Farnum.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

I fear you will receive little assistance in your work from our family. My father if living would have been able to help you a good deal.

He was in the habit once in a while of telling his family history and we have many times regreted that we did not take it down in writing.

4 EXCHANGE PLACE, BOSTON, March 27th 1886.

DEAR SIR,

My cousin, James M. Varnum of New York, has sent me your correspondence regarding the similarity of our patronymics. We have both been making researches in the matter. His theory is that our name Varnum was originally Vernon to which there is some plausibility from the fact that Draycott from which place our family emigrated in 1634 is near the seat of the Vernons. Still I incline to your theory as to similarity of name and the final eliding of the "h." and the use of the labial V. or B. or F.

I cannot find that the name was ever spelled by my ancestors differently than now. Others writing it from sound, have spelled it variously but of late years, since the showman P. T. has become so world renowned, I find every body naturally assuming his as the correct spelling. You say your name is from "Fern-home." A bright friend of mine has a theory that the name is German or Saxon and comes from a tribe who settled in the British Isles before William the Conqueror, and he quotes history to support his theory. He says this tribe "Farni" were very powerful but dwindled away in the Norman ascendancy. It must have been as badly depleted as the Janissaries of whom history states but one escaped, for I have never found many Farn-Varn-Bar-nums in England. But I mainly write to ask if you have, since you wrote my cousin, found any more clues. I have just written Prof. Henry Farnham of Yale college, whom you may know, thinking that he may have made some investigations. It is a singular coincidence that in Dracut Mass. where my ancestors settled, there were also Farnhams, and I have had to be careful not to mix the names. Today, there is not one of that name.

Very truly

JOHN M. VARNUM.

SUPPLEMENT.

WELLSVILLE, N. Y., February, 5th, 1887.

REV. J. M. W. FARNHAM, D.D.,

Shanghai, China,

DEAR SIR:—

Your "Genealogy of the Farnham Family," ordered by me from you in September, reached me December 6th, 1886. I have examined it quite carefully, and am much interested in it. Investigation discloses the fact that my ancestor Ralph Farnum and wife Alice "came from London, England, in 1635, bringing with them three children. Their children were Mary, Thomas, Ralph, Sarah and JOHN. John was born in Andover, Mass., about 1640; married Rebecca Kent, daughter of Stephen of Newbury, November 12th, 1667. She died February 8th, 1728-9, aged 78. He died June 17th, 1723, "in the 83rd year of his age."

I have the complete record of my family from Ralph down to the present time, and I am the ninth generation from Ralph, counting him as first. I have also obtained the complete record of the family of HENRY FARNHAM, of Roxbury, mentioned at page 46 of your work, from 1645 to the present day. I will send you each of these if you wish. I am now working upon some of the collateral branches of the family, and give such time to the matter as my duties will permit.

There is no question in my mind but that JOHN, the son of RALPH, is the son of the RALPH with which you commence your record. I have no Ephraim in the family of Ralph, but have a JOHN. The names aside from that correspond with yours and the dates of birth. Our Sarah was born at Andover, Mass., and married April 26th, 1658, George Abbott.

The children of the John mentioned above were,

John, b. January 20th, 1670, d. February 14th, 1670.

JOHN, b. April 13th, 1672, d. September 9th, 1749, m.

Mary TYLER, June 30th, 1693.

Stephen, b. October 19th, 1674. Probably died young.

David, b. October 7th, 1681, d. November 30th, 1687.

Anna, b. December 11th, 1677, m. Thomas Russ, April 17th, 1701.

Jonathan, b. April 27th, 1684, d. May 24th, 1761.

Thomas, b. August 11th, 1687. Probably died young,

David, b. April 14th, 1690, m. 1713.

Did you ever find that there was a son named John in the family of Ralph with which you commence your genealogy? From 1640 to 1697, or thereabouts, my ancestors were born at Andover, Mass. From 1725 to 1800 at Uxbridge, Mass. There are quite a number of Farnums at Uxbridge yet.

It would please me very much to hear from you, and any information which I have obtained or shall obtain will be at your service if desired.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. FARNUM.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNUM FAMILY.

June 25th, 1887, he wrote again as follows:—

Your letter of March 17th reached me April 28th, and I was pleased to here from you, a "distant relative."

At page 4 of your Genealogy of the Farnham Family you give an "Ephraim," son of Ralph, and you do not mention "John" as a son.

I have had considerable correspondence with Darius D. Farnum, of Woonsocket, R. I., who is a very intelligent, accurate man, who thinks you fell into an error in giving the name of Ephraim as a son of Ralph, and he is of the opinion you must have reached this conclusion from Benton's History of Concord.

The records we have are straight and we know that Ralph, 1.—I, had a son John who was our common ancestor.

I have a genealogy complete of the "Henry, Roxbury joiner," you mention at page 46, and that family has uniformly used the spelling Farnh-a-m.

From the list I hand you, you may be able to trace out some lines which may be obscure.

I shall be pleased to hear from you at any time.

Truly yours,

CLARENCE A. FARNUM.

6—II. JOHN. b. in Andover about 1640, d. June 17th, 1723, "in the 83rd year of his age." He m. Rebecca KENT, November 12th, 1667. She was a daughter of Stephen Kent, of Newbury; she d. February 8th, 1728-9, aged 78. †

II. JOHN. 6.

7—III. John, b. January 20th, 1670, d. February 14th, 1670.

8—III. JOHN, b. April 13th, 1672, d. September 9th, 1749, "in the 78th year of his age." He m. June 30th, 1693, Mary TYLER for first wife, afterwards, second wife, Abigail MARSH, of Bellingham, November, 1733. She d. February 21st, 1759. Do not find any record of the death of the first wife. He removed to Mendon, Mass., 1700-1. †

9—III. Stephen, b. October 19th, 1674, probably d. young

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNUM FAMILY.

- 10—III. Anne, b. December 11th, 1677, m. Thos. Russ, April 17th, 1701.
- 11—III. David, b. October 1671, d. November 30th, 1687.
- 12—III. Johnathan, b. April 27th, 1684, d. May 24th, 1761, m. (1st) 1708, Elizabeth Barker, who d. June 18th, 1732; (2nd) May 31st, 1733, Mehitable Poor, who d. January 19th, 1763, aged 70.
- 13—III. Thomas b. August 11th, 1687, probably d. young.
- 14—III. David, b. April 4th, 1690, m. Dorothy Dunkan, of Boston.

III. JOHN. 8.

- 15—IV. Mary, b. in Andover, Mass., March 16th, 1694, m. Nathan PENNIMAN, of Mendon, Mass., December 5th, 1716.
- 16—IV. Anna, b. January 18th, 1696, d. April 20th, 1696.
- 17—IV. JOHN, b. in Andover, Mass., December 26th, 1697, m. Mary WOOD, of Mendon, Mass., November 8th, 1722.
- 18—IV. Ann, b. in Mendon, June 3rd, 1701, m. Penniman, of Mendon.
- 19—IV. Moses, b. in Mendon, Mass., September 8th, 1705, d. in Uxbridge, September 8th, 1770, m. Abigail Sanford, November 10th, 1726; she d. October 2nd, 1773.

IV. JOHN. 17.

- 20—V. Abigail, b. August 7th, 1723, m. Seth White, August 20th, 1740.
- 21—V. THOMAS, b. in Uxbridge, Mass., November 30th, 1725, m. Mary KEITH, of Uxbridge, May 31st, 1749; d. November 9th, 1765.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, January 27th, 1887.

REV. DR. J. M. W. FARNHAM,

Shanghai, China.

DEAR SIR:—

I duly received your "Genealogy of the Farnham Family," and in accordance with your request in the preface ventur- to make the following suggestions and corrections.

(1) I have always doubted whether there was any connec- tion between our families despite the similarity of names, as I can trace nearly all of our own family since they came to America in 1634-5, and I see nothing in your pamphlet to alter my opinion and I think my cousin John Varnum, whose letter you quote, has now come around to my view.

None of the Varnums have, ever since they came to America, spelt their names differently—except that in certain records it is written Varnam. The names, yours and mine, have naturally from their similarity become sometimes confounded in the records, &c., but where done I have in most cases been able at once to detect it.

(2) Thus I long ago made up my mind that the Ralph Varnum mentioned on page 52 was a Farnham or Farnam— which is entirely confirmed by your book. No such name appears in our family records of the time.

(3) Phebe Varnum, p. 45, was probably of our family—and so possibly was Rachel.

GENEALOGY OF THE VARNUM FAMILY.

(4) Geo. Varnum, p. 48, was the ancestor of all our family in this country.

(5) Wm. Varnum, p. 50, is undoubtedly of our family, though I have not the full genealogy of that branch.

(6) James Mitchell Farnham, p. 53, and Joseph Bradley F., p. 54, were not Farnhams at all, but Varnums. The latter was my great grand-father and the former his brother, and I have their portraits, papers, &c., &c., so you can rely on this as positively accurate.

J. M. V.—(after whom I am named) graduated at Brown (not Harvard), never went to Kennebec, Maine, but to R. I.; was a lawyer, a Brigadier General in the Continental Army, a member of the Continental Congress, and Judge of the North Western Territory.

Joseph B. V., his brother, was Major General of Mass.; in Congress over twenty years—six years in U. S. Senate—one year Speaker and nearly two years President of the U. S. Senate. His son (my grand-father) and himself died on the same day, but the son had long been a resident of Washington.

(7) Martha Varnham, p. 55, I don't recognize.

(8) The Varnums on p. 56 are of my family.

(9) Our coat of arms and crest are entirely different. One formerly in the possession of General James M. Varnum, 1773, shows the crest and coat of arms of a branch of the Varnum family.

(10) Prof Henry Farnam of Yale College—not Farnham.

Yours very truly,

JAMES M. VARNUM.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNUM FAMILY.

Oswego, September 26th, 1886.

REV. J. M. W. FARNHAM, D.D.,

Dear Sir:—

Can you assure me our family is included in the "Genealogy of the Farnham Family"—Reuben, and Lydia Farnham his wife, of Shaftsbury, Vt., and descendants, including my father, Nathan Farnham, late of Oswego N. Y.? I am very desirous to learn of my ancestors more than father could tell me before his death, and undoubtedly will send for your book if I can receive such assurance. By replying you will confer a great favor on Nathan Farnham's daughter,

JULIA R. FARNHAM.

CHARLES C. FARNHAM, M.D., of Randolph, Mass., writes:—
I am glad such a work has been prepared. The high character of its collator should be sufficient guarantee of its correctness. I await its appearance here with pleasure.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 18th, 1887.

REV. J. M. W. FARNHAM,

Dear Sir:—

I some time ago purchased your publication of the "Farnham Family," and in looking it over I found the "Tree" which I sent badly shattered. In fact it looked as though one of our American cyclones had struck it. I send you herewith a correct account of our family as given in old papers, Bibles, &c., which I hope you will see goes into your next edition. I find my father was the first and only one of the family who spelled the name with an "h." And he only since 1830, previous to that it was spelled Farnam.

I also enclose the genealogy of Ephraim, V. 21. 1, p. 16, which I found in a history of some county in New Hampshire. As you do not show it in your issue I thought perhaps you had not seen it, and it may help out some other branch. The New England Register of 1865 mentions a John Farnham who lived in Boston in 1662; could he have been a son of Henry Farnham? As for our own branch, I can give no theory except they belong to the Farnams whom Mrs. Susan Merrill Farnham speaks of on page 50 of your book. I hope, as you do, that some member of the family will continue these researches. Please acknowledge receipt of this.

Yours truly,

G. M. FARNHAM.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

VI. HAZEN. 71—8.

m. (1st) Sarah Fisk; m. (2nd) Sarah Corlis.

100—1. VII. Sarah L.

I. H. FARNHAM writes:—

On page 53 you speak of Deacon Samuel Farnham, of Auburn, Me., who died August 17th, 1885, aged 69. He was a son of Ebenezer, grandson of Joshua, page 19.

On page 54 you speak of Daniel as moving to Castle Bay near Portland. It should doubtless read Casco Bay. Father has a book of travels written by Thos. J. Farnham, page 54.

Your book ordered some months ago has been received. It contains a good deal of information, but hardly reaches to my immediate family.

I enclose a list of my family connections, starting with VI Samuel in your book:—

My father, Bradford D., has long had an interest as well as myself in attempting to learn something of our ancestry. My father has obtained the inclosed matter with other which he permits me to send you, and I hope it will find a place in your future edition. I understand my father that some of the information you already have was obtained indirectly from him (I think you name your informer, which fixes the matter).

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

I want to say a word about my father's mother—mothers you know have much to do with the character of the children. My Grandmother Farnham lost her first husband, Mr. Davis, through his being killed by lightning. She had two small children at the time of his death. She was in straightened circumstances but was a devoted Christian woman and instilled into the hearts of all her children Bible principles. Her children by her first husband, and living son of her, second are Christian men with Christian families. She died at a ripe age, happy in her Lord. I love to remember her pious life during my childhood and youth—she loved her Bible and hours of secret devotion and her hymns. The Lord's day was a holy day to her, and she taught its strict observance to her four boys, and cast a lasting influence upon her boy's children. A part of one of the favorite hymns I used to hear her sing and wonder what it meant, was "Fly swift around, ye wheels of time, and bring the welcome day." I have a little clock the ball of which swings around in a circle, having as all such clocks a rapid train of wheels moving constantly—I prize the clock for it reminds me of the old hymn and the sainted Grandmother.

Her son, Bradford D. Farnham, married in Woolwich, where his first two children were born. In 1857 he moved his family to the little village called Sabattus, Me., (in the towns of Webster, Green and Lewiston) and became a partner in trade with his half brother Isaac N. Davis. He remained there through the war and till 1871, when he moved again to Woolwich, purchasing a house and land at what is called Sagadahoc Ferry, where he now resides.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

He, with his quiet and amiable Christian wife, was among the leaders in church and sunday school life at Sabattus, and he has filled honorable positions in town and government offices. In the winter of 1866 and '67 he was a member of the Maine legislature, representing the district including his village home. His son Henry was sickly in boyhood and was thus deprived of other than a common school education. He was somewhat mechanical in his thinking, contriving numerous mechanical toys and models at an early age.

He learned the art of telegraphy in his father's store at the age of thirteen, where he also rendered assistance in the Post Office and store.

From the age of 20 most of his time was devoted to telegraphy in several different offices, until the telephone was invented, when he naturally turned his attention to this field, it being attractive from a scientific point of view. In August, 1879, he was detailed by the Western Union Telegraph Co. to the care of the infant telephone exchange in Portland, Me., where he remained, building up a thriving business with 800 subscribers, till promoted in December, 1884, to the position of Electrician of the New England Telephone and Telegraph of the Co., with office in Boston and duties throughout the territory of the Company.

He has made numerous inventions in the telephone field, having taken out already five patents with several others, pending.

Henry joined the Baptist Church of his parents while yet a youth. At Portland he was made clerk of the Free St. Baptist Church, which position he held during his stay of five years in that city.

GENEALOGY OF THE FARNHAM FAMILY.

My cousin, Deacon Benjamin Farnham, of East Wakefield, N. H., gives the following additional particulars of his own family.

His son, Joseph B., was born June 11th, 1855, and died June 30th, 1882. He married Sarah H. Snow of Marblehead, Mass., Jan. 10th, 1876. She died June 5th, 1879, leaving one son, Arthur E., born March 5th, 1879.

Hannah E., daughter of Benjamin, above, died Sept. 9th, 1884.

Joseph B. 109-1 VIII, page 12, m. for his second wife Lizzie A. White house, of Newfield. His post office address is North Shapleigh, Me.

My cousin adds,—“I give you a little record of another Farnam it appears you have not got.

Eliphelet Farnum was born in New York. When a boy his father moved to Vermont and took up wild land. When about fourteen years old it appears that Eliphelet left home and went West with other boys to try his luck. In after years he settled down in Massachusetts and from thence removed to Acton, where he died near where I now live. He never married. The inscription on his gravestone is:—

Eliphelet Farnum, Died March 2nd, 1870, Aged 70 years 3 months.”

Any further changes or additions to be inserted in further editions, or relating to the whole subject of the Genealogy of the Farnham Family, may be addressed to my nephew, J. M. W. Farnham, jr., Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., U.S.A. I trust he will, some future day, bring out a full and complete history of the family methodically arranged.
